One way to model selection in this type of situation is consider selection for the A allele and selection against the a allele. This is done by assigning the highest fitness to individuals with two A alleles (genotype AA ), the lowest fitness to someone with no A alleles (genotype aa ), and an intermediate fitness to those with one A allele (genotype Aa ).

Model 1 – Endler’s Guppies This model simulates Endler’s 1980 classic experiment on the balance of sexual selection and natural selection. In guppies, females prefer to mate with males that have lots of spots, but those males are more easily seen by predators. You can manipulate strength of female preference and the number of predators.

The lab requires that the students carry out the simulation for 5 generations to observe the effects of natural selection in an artificial habitat. Students will collect quantitative data, graph their results, and answer thought provoking/problem solving questions. This lab is perfect for reinforcing critical thinking skills.

Evolution Lab: Modeling Natural Selection by Amy Brown ...

They answer a series of questions that guides them toward the understanding that the rise of antibiotic resistant bacteria within the population is an example of evolution by natural selection. Students extend their understanding by predicting and then modeling a variation of the original scenario.
